

Ishtar Is Looking For Your Support

With the Holiday Season fast approaching Ishtar is reaching out to you to show women and children who have experienced violence how much this generous community cares about them.

Tania is the mother of three children who is staying in one of our Houses (name changed to protect her identity and safety). Tania's daughters are 7 and 17 and her son is 15. With the assistance of police, they fled with their dog after another violence attack by Tania's partner. Tania will be relocating to a new home for her family's safety. At our Transition Houses and Counselling and Support Services, we help families like Tania's throughout the year.

Tania and her children and their dog are now safe in our Transition House. We hope to help her and her family, as well as other families we assist, to have a special Christmas and help with a new start free from violence.

How Can You Help? For a detailed list call us but we are always in need of:

- * new toys for children and gifts for youth
- * gifts for women
- * new hygiene items of women and children

We know that Langley is a caring community. Please help us ensure that our most vulnerable women and children experience that generosity. Please be assured that your contribution will make a difference in the lives of the hundreds of women and children that we support. We certainly could not make Christmas happen at Ishtar without you.
